ALASKA RELAY OUTREACH PROGRAM

Assistive Technology of Alaska (ATLA)

Sprint Relay contracts with Assistive Technology of Alaska (ATLA) to provide outreach & marketing for the Alaska Relay Equipment Distribution Program (EDP) across the state. ATLA has over 20 years of experience providing Assistive Technology (AT) and related services. Assistive Technology refers to any product, device, or equipment used to maintain, increase, or improve the functional capabilities of individuals with disabilities. ATLA provides a range of AT resources and services throughout Alaska and is the state's comprehensive AT resource center. Assistive Technology can be the key to greater independence and productivity for people in their home, school, community, and/or place of employment. An example of Assistive Technology is the CapTel Captioned Phone. It is ideal for people with some degree of hearing loss and works like any other telephone with one important addition: It displays every word the caller says during the conversation.

ATLA's AT specialists take numerous trips throughout the year to provide outreach, demonstrations, awareness, and training in major hubs throughout the state. Contact us today to find out when we will be in your area next.

OUR OUTREACH PROGRAM

ALASKA RELAY MISSION

- Alaska Relay Outreach program promotes and increases Relay Service awareness on a local and statewide level by providing outreach services across Alaska - educating all Alaskans about the services available through Alaska Relay.
- The Outreach Program Team can meet with clubs and affiliates, businesses and agencies, professional groups, medical organizations, senior organizations, and advocacy groups.
- The Alaska Relay Outreach Team can conduct workshops, public presentations, and seminars, which include a history of the development of Alaska Relay. Demonstrations of the services Alaska Relay provides and placing live relay calls can also be provided. There is no charge for these presentations and demonstrations.
