EQUIPMENT DISTRIBUTION PROGRAM

What is Alaska Relay Telecommunications Equipment Distribution Program?

Alaska Relay provides landline telephone access for people with hearing loss or speech impairment through assistive devices like TTYs and Captioned (CapTel) telephones. The Telecommunications Equipment Distribution Program (TEDP) assists eligible customers to obtain one of these devices.

Alaska residents who are deaf, hard-of-hearing, deaf-blind or have a speech impairment are eligible to receive TTY and CapTel equipment through TEDP at no charge.

Who is eligible for the TEDP?

Individuals interested in the TEDP can be directed to Assistive Technology of Alaska (ATLA) Office located in Anchorage, Alaska.

For individuals to be eligible for the TEDP, they must:

- Be an Alaska resident
- Have a significant hearing or speech loss

How do I apply for the TEDP?

Contact the ATLA team and they will assist you with the application for equipment.

Or you may click to download the three PDF forms at www.alaskarelay.com/tedp. After you finish filling out the forms, please mail to:
